

WANDERLUST TALENT
ENTERTAINS FRIENDSSocial and Photographic Display Is Held at Masonic Hall, Northeast.

Nearly 400 wanderlusters and their friends attended the social and photographic display given at the Masonic Hall, 222 8th street northeast, last evening. The halls were decorated in the wanderlust colors of blue, green and brown (signifying the sky, the trees and grass, and the earth), with their flag of the same colors. Six hundred and fifty different views were shown, exhibited by W. R. Koss, Walter W. Paige, George S. Ross, A. F. Hellman, J. P. Greene, J. H. Stephenson, Bert Elliott, Mr. Hennehan, Misses Fuller, Monah Ford and Constance White. John Boyle, Jr., presided over the gathering, while a short program, contributed by wanderlust talent, was given.

The program included the following numbers: Piano solo, Miss Virginia Peck; Each on Evening, summer song, "The Wanderlusters," composed by Miss Mary Fisher, and sung by R. A. Joncher; reading, Mrs. Leola; recitation, Mrs. Emily Barnes; vocal, Appleton Cady, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Emily Barnes; dance, Miss Geneva Brooks; recitation, Miss Katherine Abernathy; address by "The Wanderlust."

Leaders of the Movement.

The leaders of the movement, aided by a special committee of women, were on hand to see that all were warmly welcomed. Each one wore a red carnation. Those who have acted as leaders since the organization started, giving their names in about the order in which they have been in service, are: John Boyle, Jr., Thea Ulke, Representative Jeremiah Donovan, John O. Lewis, Miss Katherine Abernathy, J. P. Greene, L. W. York, Emily Thompson, G. A. Gamba, R. Merritt, George S. Ross, W. W. Cooke, Albert Jones, C. A. Hughes, Harry Shannon, William G. Storer, Frank Lawson, Dr. T. C. Storer and William G. Ellis.

Record of Sunday Strolls.

During the ten months in which the movement has been effective in Washington, a grand total of more than 8,000 have gone on the Sunday afternoon strolls and about 2,000 on the morning strolls. The total number of strolls traveled, exclusive of strolls in service, has been more than 100,000 miles.

It is pointed out that a considerable increase in the number of strolls has been made by means of the movement, many last evening expressed the intention of joining the movement.

First Walk April 19 Last.

The first walk was held on April 19 last, when more than 900 started out to explore some of the beauties of Rock Creek Park, which the average dweller seldom sees. It was thought at that time that with the advent of warm weather the walks would be discontinued until fall, but such a voice of protest went up that other leaders came to the rescue. The boys and Ulke went to Europe, and the interest was kept up.

An anniversary walk is being planned for April 19, when the movement was first started. The route for this has not yet been decided. There is no organization, with the exception of the Wanderlust League, and arrangement, composed of Walter W. Paige, F. C. Merritt, John Boyle, Jr., Titus Ulke and John O. Lewis.

No Dues and No Rules.

The wanderlusters have tried to demonstrate to the public that a movement could be successful without formal organization. There are no dues, no rules, only that hikers be good, follow the leader and co-operate in other ways.

The meeting place next Sunday is to be at the Great Falls station, at 26th and M streets, at 2:10 o'clock, with G. A. Gamba as leader.

25,000 PERISHED IN QUAKE.

Italian Paper Gives Casualty Figures of Last Disaster.

ROME, February 11.—The Giornale d'Italia publishes semi-official statistics of the fatalities in the recent earthquake, from which it appears that about 25,000 persons perished. Of these 23,747 were in the province of Aquila, 422 in the province of Caserta, most of them in the town of Abora, and thirty-four in the province of Rome. The town of Avezzano, in the province of Aquila, had the heaviest loss of any individual town, 16,719 of its inhabitants, or about 90 per cent of the population, having been killed.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know one who is troubled with catarrhal deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and they will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness.

Experiments conducted in England and this formula are found to be effective in that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., are directly caused by constitutional trouble. It was further brought out that salivary glands, etc., are very important in the cure, and that the formula would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal trouble from the system. The prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness and head noises will soon be extinct is given below in understandable form so that any one can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Purinat (Double Strength), about 7c worth. Take this long and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 1/2 oz. of granulated sugar. Stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Purinat is used in this way not only to reduce the toxic action, the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tube, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretion in the middle ear.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this distressing disease.

GIVES AN ILLUSTRATED
LECTURE ON THE SCOTSRobert Lister Macneil Wears the Kilt in Tracing History of Highland Clans.

An illustrated lecture on the Scottish clans was given last evening by Robert Lister Macneil, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society at the Inman Baptist Church, 16th street and Columbia road. Mr. Macneil appeared first in the full dress or court highland costume. After giving a short description of the "garb of old Gaul" the lecturer changed to the highland evening dress, and, aided by excellent stereoscopic views, traced the history of the Scottish clans from the misty past to the present day. Mention was made of the numerous clan battles and also of the rising of the Jacobites in 1715 and 1745, and that popular hero, "Bonnie Prince Charlie." The great tide of emigration from Scotland to America, which played such an important part in establishing the colonies, was described. The famous highland regiments were referred to, and pictures of some of Canada's killed soldiers also were shown. Of special interest was the description of that part of Scotland so little known to the rest of the world, the Outer Hebrides, where the people live a primitive existence. Mr. Macneil ended the lecture by speaking of the kindliness of the Scots and quoting Burns' poem on "Highland Hospitality."

DEADLY WEAPON SALE
IS AGAIN PROTESTEDSafety First Association Points to Scrivener Murder as Example.

Additional protests against the indiscriminate sale of firearms in the District of Columbia were made by members of the Washington Safety First Association at a meeting at the Public Library last evening. The Scrivener case, in which a man shot and killed his mother and himself, was held up as an example of results of the indiscriminate sale of weapons.

The Washington Safety First Association went on record several months ago as protesting against the indiscriminate sale of weapons. At that time, President William F. Peabody pointed out the dangers resulting therefrom, and gave numerous statistics showing fatalities from firearms.

Names Three Delegates.

Considerable time was given over to the discussion of automobile registration, but no action was taken. Dr. Edgar D. Thompson, A. J. Driscoll and J. Clinton Hatt were named as delegates to the safety convention to be held in New York in the near future for the purpose of federating safety organizations in all parts of the country. A letter from Frederick H. Elliott, secretary of the New York association, was read.

Policemen to regulate traffic at Thomas Circle was recommended. July 21 was chosen as the date for the annual excursion of the Washington association.

Describes Safety Museum.

Mr. Driscoll told of a recent visit to the American Museum of Safety in New York, where, he said, all sorts of mechanical safety appliances were on exhibition. Dr. Thompson, chairman of the committee, on industrial safety, said his committee is to take up several matters of importance in the near future.

The increase of the number of traffic accidents in London as reported in the press was discussed briefly. President Peabody presided.

DISPLACING U. S. PRODUCT.

Italian Canned Tomatoes in Competition With the American.

Italian canned tomatoes are fast taking up the American market abroad, although this vegetable is a native American, according to the Department of Commerce, Commercial Agent J. Alexis Shriver, writing to the department on the canned tomato industry in Italy, says that country can grow the rest of the world how to grow tomatoes.

The Italian product, he says, has practically pushed the American product out of the English market and has gained an enormous market in the United States. The Italians raise a solid meaty tomato of fine color, and it is so packed in the can that the consumer is not obliged to pay for a large percentage of water.

The estimated area planted in tomatoes in Italy is about 32,000 acres, producing about 850,000 tons. The exports to the United States amount to about 20,000,000 pounds of canned tomatoes and tomato sauce, and some 8,000,000 pounds of the product go to South America. The total value of the tomato exports from Italy is well over $6,000,000.
